I second everything that has been said. I fish all those streams pretty regularly. Slippery Rock does get a fall stocking, but I had the FFO section... no gradient. Check out the Neshannock in a few weeks. They'll stock it on March 5th, and the lunker stocking is March 12th. I'm going to organize a "beginner's outing" at the Neshannock probably sometime in April. I'll keep you posted. That'll be a good time for you to meet some people on the board and get a few lessons as a newbie. If you ever want to meet up and fish, let me know. I'd be more than happy to fish any of those streams with you.
