I like Maxima Chameleon for the stiff sections of the leader, and it's probably especially good for a beginner as the stiff sections really help you turn it over when casting.

My butts are 0.024, which equates to 40 lb test. Then 3 or 4 intermediate sizes before changing over to softer materials for the last section or two + tippet.

Look up the tapers you want and then buy the materials. Can probably get yourself all the sizes necessary for $30 ish, and that'll last years.
