

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Would it be a waste of time?

Re: Would it be a waste of time?

Author: : gfen

Date: : 2011/3/7 15:46:48

URL:

(I'll just answer for him...)

Yes.

Do you have any fishing line, something to take the whipcrack at the end is essential to keeping the line from falling apart, and it'll help you understand the dynamics of the line and rod loading and unloading.

You don't need a crazy lot, but even if its a matter of buying a cheap tapered leader at any sporting goods store and just using it as it falls apart, You can tie it around a little puff of yarn to also help you begin to understand what's going on.