I think that wanting to f.f. for muskies is thinking a little outside the box. And I think that a lot of the dryfly purists probably do to. But the meaning of f.f. is up to the person that's doing it. That's the beauty of it. If you think that it's all about the delicate presentation of a size 24 trico to a rising trout on spring creek. That's cool if that's what you're into. The same goes for us guys that like to throw big streamers and fish aggressively looking for the big bite. I just don't want to be looked down upon because of my style of fishing or gear. And if some of the old dyed-in-the-wool gards don't like it... Well I don't care just give me a wide berth and keep your comments to yourselves.
