Dry Fly Hackle?

Just curious. What kind of dry fly hackle do you guys use?

I am quite fond of Whiting 100 packs, because of how dense the fibers are and how I can use my hands to layer the hackle instead of pliers. As an added bonus, they are inexpensive compared to buying platinum saddle capes. I can get every size from 12 -- 18 for $50 where a whole saddle is roughly $110.

I also like how in grizzly and dun they go down to size 22 and are 11" long.

What do you guys prefer?
