

---

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Farmerdave

Re: Farmerdave

Author: : FarmerDave

Date: : 2006/12/16 0:14:58

URL:

Thanks, and yes. Especially the hybrids... and they hit like bass. Caught one on a 2/0 hook using a soft plastic 8 inch salamander. Couldn't believe it!

Had a friend over and he used a 6X tippet. I warned him it was too light. I was right. He thought they were bass breaking him off, but after going to heavier tippet, he caught several. I need to buy more of those hybrids this spring. They are a blast.

Also have yellow perch now in the pond in the woods. They are growing fat eating the stunted green sunfish.