

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : woul like some helpful Input

Re: woul like some helpful Input

Author: : Fishidiot

Date: : 2011/4/9 20:40:22

URL:

Pop,

Welcome to our online community. The standard trout rod for most applications here in PA would be something like a 8 foot rod for a 5 weight line. Any rod between about 7-9 feet and 4-6 weight line should suffice. Rods below and above these numbers are more for specialty fishing. Get whatever rod that appeals to you and fits your budget. Be aware that, if it doesn't come with fly line, that this will cost an additional 20- 30 dollars. Take some time to browse through this Beginner's Forum as there's a good bit of discussion on this subject.