Pop, I'm a huge fan of my $20 Eagle Claw and $20 Medalist, but when my friend asked me to help set him up I steered him away from it to nicer stuff.

Depending on your price range, the world's your mollusk. As it is, I'd say a quality, budget, outfit is a Cabela's Three Forks 8'6" 5wt. I know the rod'll set you back $50, chances are the rest of adds probably another $40ish on top?

Still, its good enough to get your feet wet and not be immediately hampered by an arcane gear choice.

Also, I will attest the LL Bean Streamlight Ultra and SL reels are pretty damned sweet.
