Simms for sure. The only brand of waders I never had trouble with. Their mid range, made in the USA models are well worth the price IMO, and I'm not one to just throw gobs of cash into my equipment. Their stuff is solid so they get my $$$.

Simms. Made in the USA and awesome customer service...

Not all Simms waders are made in the US. The Freestone and Blackfoot models are imported. The prices are reasonable on these models but they are not USA made.

The Headwaters models @$300 are Simms least expensive USA made waders. (I have them and love 'em.)
