Everything Wader related item that I've bought from Simms over the last 2 years was complete garbage. 2 pairs of Vibram boots, both lasted about 6 months until the bottom was worn smooth and falling off. Their customer service sucks, IMO. If you don't own the top of the line stuff they don't want to help. The only thing I have from Simms that has lasted is a baseball hat. I know other forum members have had troubles wwith Simms quality lately, chime in people.
