my buddies are simms advocates, yet, within a year of all having g3 or g4's, sprung a leak.

since they are guides, they do get a sickening discount, which keeps them with the company, however, if you buy simms as a laymen and they leak, they repair upon you sending them back.

gonia on the other hand... replaces i'm not sure on redington, but I would go with gonia's or beans man... can't beat the guarantee
