with my situation being a last minute decision, I contacted the campground to see about being able to pitch a tent or sleep in the truck should I decide to come out sometime friday if I can. they simply said there is one campsite left to reserve. well, I'm not reserving a site I'm not sure I can use.

SOOOO, is there anyone willing to sublet a 6x6 spot at their site should I be able to make it out? I'll bring beer, good beer at that!!

right now it's maybe 50/50 that I will be there. all depends on family matters.

I really want to try to make it out, bruno brings good cheese!!!

anyone hear from shakey yet? he does have a job now!!

You get there and someone will make room. The site I'm staying at is one that daveyboy has reserved and he is solo tenting and I am sleeping in my truck. So I if it's ok with daveyboy we will have room. Hope to see you there.
