

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Zebra Midge

Re: Zebra Midge

Author: : jayL

Date: : 2007/12/12 18:44:53

URL:

They all are.

The fourth one looks like it was taken from Meck's site. That's the version I tie.

You can use a brass or silver bead. I find they both work in varying conditions. You can mix and match thread and rib colors, such as in the red one. I've heard of people using no thread, and just ribbing a hook for the same effect.

Wings can be added as well, as shown in two of the patterns.

For me, the most effective is the black, silver rib, silver bead. I tie it in sizes 16-22. 18 and 20 are most effective.