This is what I do with trim wraps:

The first one is exactly 14" from the but of the rod. Then the infor I write goes in that spot.

If I build a rod for someone else or to sell, another (elaborate)wrap goes at 20".

If I build for myself, I put small wraps matching the colors I use in concentric order at 16", 18", and 20". This acts as a ruler on the rod and verifies the large fish I catch; which is not very many.

Of course you could go all the way to the stripper guide in any incrimment of measure you like.
