I was living in Va. in the mid 60s when they had a cycle.Fished the upper Rapidan a lot.Had a section that contained rainbows that had been stocked for One of the Presidents.Blocked at that point,below to the Valley floor was a great brooky stream.Much more open than Pa. brooktrout streams.

I figured I would have a ball with Cicada imitations-.

Neither species seemed to want anything to do with them,or the real ones either.

Surprised how good some said the fishing was during the infestation.

Maybe southern trout have different tastes.lol
