

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Anybody Ever Fished A Cicada Fly?

Re: Anybody Ever Fished A Cicada Fly?

Author: : Sylvaneous

Date: : 2011/5/12 17:44:20

URL:

Yes. I got to fish a good deal during the last big Cicada hatch. Towards the end of the event, I finally got a good pattern worked out. Man, it looked good, fished well and even the more spooky, oft-hooked fish ate it. I had other patterns that just weren't working as well. A big fly like this in daylight and clear water has a lot of detail to give it up as a phoney. I don't think they'll last until the next session. I'll have to record how I did it so I don't have to reinvent the wheel.

Syl