

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Anybody Ever Fished A Cicada Fly?

Re: Anybody Ever Fished A Cicada Fly?

Author: : dryflyguy

Date: : 2011/5/12 23:51:55

URL:

I got in a few trips out to central PA for the 2008 emergence - and it was awesome. But things were kinda busy at work at that time, and I wasn't able to take off as much as I wanted to.

The next time that brood hatches however, I'll be 70. And should finally be able to fish them as much as I want I hope.

I also fished them on the green river on utah. The annual cicadas there are heavy enough that the fish take them apparantly, every year.