Thats really cool. I've still have never seen a Bowfin. I know people catch them up in the Bay (Erie). Whats the deal with the Geneva Swamp? The rumor that I always hear is that the bottom is so soft, the bridge over it actually "floats". I knew some guy from back home that would hunt huge bullfrogs from a jonboat back in the day. I drive over it all of the time...I've always wondered about fishing it.
