Hey fellas i have had good success this season using Hares ear and beaded pheasant tail,started out with size 16 then 18 and now size 20,but the last week no luck at all. I realize temp change and water depth could be changing and perhaps my locations that held fish perhaps no longer are. Should i be putting on different nymphs and also whats everyones thoughts on Zebra midges size 20 when warmer weather hits especially in July?

I have been moveing my indicator to water depth changes.

Any help is appreciated being that i am a newbie.

Thanks,Robert
