In assateaque (pardon my spelling) I saw man fly fishing an inlet where we went crabbing. I saw him get a nice bite but missed the fish. That's calmer water then at the actual beach though. At The pier at The end of the boardwalk I've caught some flounder and there's been times where I've sat there all night catching blues. The blues are hit or miss though. It depends on where there schools are. Also a lot of stingrays and sand sharks that are lots of fun to catch. Ocean city is better overall for spin fishing.
