i am sorry you guys couldn't cash in on someones misfortune. Maybe next time.

hmmmm lets see. This shop was running a "huge" sale at a whopping 20% off. That is not a "huge" sale. That, along with the money they spent on advertising, is what they should have been doing to stay in business. That and leveraging their relationship with Hardy. Hell Tco had a 51% offgroupon deal via viral marketing the same day these guys had the fat 20% off. I was much happier taking advantage of tco's misfortune
