I do not care about "sport fish," I want to catch skates. How do I catch skates on conventional tackle or, sweet babby jebus, flies?

Give me the secret!

I think the best way on any tackle is to simply try not to catch them...that will get you surely get you skates all day long, or at least it does for me. Hope you get lots of them...

Aside - I saw a guy cutting the wings off of them one time...assumed it was for bait strips...Nope, he told me the wings on the larger ones weren't half bad eating. Give me a blackened striper fillet instead any day...
