Frank,

That might have been the meanest things, most petty things I've read in a while. Shouldn't you be out counting up your fame and logging it in your little journal, sir? I've never met you, but if you were half the man Dan is, which by the tone of this post I'd guess you aren't, you'd never post such a jerkish thing about one of the nicest guys on here. I've had the pleasure of fishing with Dan a couple times and I'm pretty sure he could catch trout like that in an open sewer. Yeah, we get it. You catch a lot of fish. Awesome. Thanks for your contribution.
