Dear FrankTheTroutAngler:

I see the OP and comments as celebrating having a good time by catching fish. To some people, size and weight and numbers matter. For some it is all the time, for others, just depending upon the circumstances. Have you ever caught a brown trout on a fly in the size and weight of what has been shown here, whether wild or stocked? I said "on a fly." If not, you cannot share the feeling that may have accompanied catches such as this. This is, perhaps, why your comments on PAFF sometimes stir up hornets' nests.
