I have found great directions on dubbed extended bodies, but I don't remember the site - sorry.

Will this suffice?

I still like the foam Larva Lace. You can tie it in and leave it long. Then when you get to Penns, you can catch one of the duns and cut the foam to length. You won't have tails, but who cares? You don't have to be that exact. Much better that the light pass through the body naturally.
