Well, I want something with some stopping power. I have thought about just going with Ross evo or Lamson lightspeed, because of the bean discount. I have a hard time thinking an Allen drag system will hold up.

That's just silly. I hooked the 9wt up to my kid and had her tear ass around the yard. Soaked reel in water first. No problem.

But ya, go ahead and put a ultralight reel on it. That'll feel goot.
