You doing this to turn them around on ebay for hair extensions? Been thinking about doing that myself, a lot of money to be made. But I'm a lazy bastard too. For the right price, or a reasonably high % of profits, I might be willing to let you do the work...

I have grizzly, light dun, and medium dun #2 full saddles, all three used but fairly lightly and have lots of feathers left. None are in original packaging as I transfer them to big freezer bags in my storage system (was never expecting to sell, lol). I think all 3 are Metz and not Whiting. Can provide pictures.

I've also got 6 or 7 full capes in more interesting colors.

Not parting with my smaller feather collections, though, I need something to tie with!
