I thought about planning a WW Jam (I planned the one last year) but decided to hold off this year as I've had an unpredictable work schedule and there are so many other events on the calender. Please don't wait for me. If nobody else puts one up on the calender, I might consider it for next year but at least this summer, I'm definitely out of the business of planning Jams, esp anything that involves a float trip.

Maybe this fall will work.... and I might consider planning a WW Jam or salt Jam for October or Nov.
