

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Yough Crayfish Pattern-Question

Re: Yough Crayfish Pattern-Question

Author: : flipnfly

Date: : 2011/7/24 21:18:07

URL:

never heard of it but it could be something like the clouser crayfish pinkish tan shell (fuzzy foam) and tan or pumpkin seed rubber legs it probably represents a either soft shell which usually have light blue in them and or a freshly moulted rustybrown crayfish i have seen all 3 in the yough but never a pinkish one try it out