Last night my daughter and I were on the Wrightsville flats for two hours from 7:30 until 9:30 pm. A good number of flies (winding down). Not many rises to speak of, managed to hook up iwth one channel cat around 9:15 along the shore.

Sam had fun helping the white flies to molt and bobbing in the river while I stalked rise forms while a hippy girl played acoustic guitar over a loud speaker at the John Wright restaurant. and there were fireworks under the route thirty bridge.

Short of the distractions the fishing sucked.
