Two important things. In the picture notice the finger pushing the eye down. That helps it come out the original hole.

Second thing, a really good pull. Little light tugs don't work. This is hard when you are relying on someone else to pull (being fly fisherman hooks stuck in ears, etc, do happen).

Glad it worked out, thanks for sharing your story. When I tie flies the very first thing I do it put the hook in the vise and crush the barb.
