This is a terrible idea. These parks are supposed to be for the people.

Jay, I'm not sure that this has to do with "far right" or "far left". It has to do with our govt, either side, not being able to "balance their checkbook" and the voters having to pick up the tab as usual...whether its in the form of cuts or higher taxes. You and I don't spend money we don't have, so why should the govt be able to? Its an inherent problem with both sides.

I work for an authority that falls under city govt jurisdiction (quite a grey area here) and the subject of privitization always comes up. If a private company would buy this department, it must have the ability to be profitable...so why can't the current administration run it in a fashion that turns a profit? Because they don't have to.

Sorry just ranting.
