

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Cross Fork, Potter County, 9/5/11

Re: Cross Fork, Potter County, Monday 9/5

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2011/9/7 8:09:25

URL:

I enjoy reading reports from the northern tier. Seems folks that fish that area keep their cards flat on the table because a vest doesn't have any sleeves, I suppose.

I suspect the water temps were fine. That rain on Monday was cool even in the southern Counties. I think most of our close to the edge wild waters, such as the Forks in the Sinnemahoning watershed, and even Penns did very well this Summer. I don't remember a period of more than a week or two once or twice all Summer when I became concerned about drought or thermal dangers. I further suspect some of the better stocked waters are still holding this years stocked fish.

A long Fall would be glorious.