Well see if I ever try to help you out again.

I was looking in one of the rags at B&N the other day and saw a big full page add for Hyde. $5995 boat, trailer, etc. Now I don't know length, storage, model, etc, but it seemed like a pretty fair deal to me. Had they deals that stabilize the person when standing and had seat. Other than that I am sure it was stripped down. I would imagine shipping would be $400-500 as well.

Edit: Found it. It's halfway down this page.

New 2011 Hyde Contender Drift Boat $5,995

October 13th, 2011

Can't find just the perfect "Used Boat" that you are looking for? Have you considered New? You could own a 2011 Hyde Contender Drift Boat for about the same price as many Used drift boats and you can choose your own colors and configuration. For example, the boat shown here includes a front walk around storage box (with Hyde improved fiberglass boxes) with Tempress seat, walk around rowers storage box with low back rowers seat, rear walk around storage box with Tempress seat, front matching leg brace, rowers foot brace, floor anchor system, front leg brace, raised level floors for passenger safety and comfort, Hyde deluxe trailer, oars, and anchor! Check out this boat ... you could own a 2011 model for the price of a late model used boat!!!

Double Edit: Hell, it looks like ClackaCrafts has one for $4995.

Again, basic model.
