It does go to be a pain when your belt high in a river with 40 ft of line at your feet.

PACO,

this is why the Express Wet Tip is so nice - a 25 foot sinking head is long enough that it fishes almost like a sinking line would, other than the coil of line at your ankles. I wish they would extend the sinking head section a bit more since casting more than 50-60 feet of sinking line is usually not necessary for the trout / streamer fishing that I do.
