

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : photographing flies

Re: photographing flies

Author: : JackM

Date: : 2007/1/6 23:23:38

URL:

White will work best in showing up the flies' true colors, but you will need to watch shadows. It might be better to use black with a strong light. Try different shades with the light source positioned differently and see what turns out.