For dryflies I use only Tiempco hooks and only once had one bend, it was a # 20 and on a huge trout in Fishing Creek Clinton County. I don't like mustad, they don't have sharp points even out of the box, they bend and break, and need to be sharpened all the time.

One you should make sure you are doing is to dry your flies out after each outing, I say this but don't always do it myself, and it does cause problems.
