Please let me know if you see any errors, or if anyone was left out or if there need to be corrections.

It will take me a while to get this page and these flies integrated into the Master Index.

I think the Olive Bugger and the Bugger Unknown are the same no? Anyway thanks for putting the pictures together Jack.

I realized there is one problem wiht these swaps. I was trying to downsize the number of bugger patterns I carry and now i have a bunch more I think I need.
