

---

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Protecting a Smaller Tippet

Protecting a Smaller Tippet

Author: : mario66pens

Date: : 2011/12/18 12:04:59

URL:

During the winter I fish small midge nymphs quite often. To fish the smaller nymphs (size 20-24) I need to put on 6x-7x tippet. Unfortunately the bigger brownies and steelhead dont agree with it and it often breaks. Would it be recommended to make the tippet as short as possible from fly to leader? would that increase strength?