jayL, too bad you got the run around. I had several emails and calls inquiring where they can get ZipCast during the same time period as you. I had experienced delays in receiving product the last year or so I was a dealer and most of that was due to carrier issues for large quantities. Same thing could have happened for the dealer now that sells ZipCast.

ZipCast is still available through Bingham Enterprises in Overland Park, KS. I suspect they are the dealer now since I ordered a bottle on November 3rd at www.zipcast.net. It arrived on November 8th. Good and speedy service, which I am glad to see. Good luck to them.

HA, as always I owe you gratitude for your kind words. As much as I would like to have ZipCast as my own, the price in my mind was too steep to buy.
