

Subject: : Gear Talk

Topic: : Good Small Stream Rod

Re: Good Small Stream Rod

Author: : Foxgap239

Date: : 2012/1/4 9:25:16

URL:

Update. I had a Batson 6.6 2 wt (although I'm using a 3wt and may even try a 4wt) made for me. Guy did a great job but didn't charge me as agreed upon price because he said the color of the thread bled due to his color preserver or something. Sends me pictures and all. I can't see a damn thing wrong. We agreed upon $190 but he says he can't charge me more than $100. Sends me the rod and I still can't see what he is talking about. Took the rod out for a spin Monday. Casts streamers well, nymphs and dries great. Best part, I didn't get stuck in one tree like I did with my longer rods. Even got some fish too. I couldn't send the guy only $100 bucks because I would have had to go to confession for stealing. So I split the difference and sent him more. Guy sends me an email and is extremely grateful for me being so generous. I'm thinking, I'm not the generous one dude. Anyway, guy is my rod builder for life. I highly recommend this rod if you are looking for a small stream rod.