One of my 2012 goals in to catch a false albacore (albie). I would like to know if anyone can recommend a guide in the northern NJ or NY areas. Depending on timing and budget, this may or may not happen this year. I'll be hitting the shows this year, hopefully talking to guides.

 This trip is about catching fish or having the highest probability to catch albies on FF tackle. I am not looking for a "learning" experience.

Always wanted to catch albies on FF gear. So for my 30th birthday present to myself...I am exploring a few ideas.
