Pat - We'll talk. Your input is highly appreciated, and I'd like to work with you on further refining the itinerary for this event.

Bill - Your help and attendance is always welcome. Consider yourself involved - up to your eyeballs. 😁 We'll talk as well.

Here's what I have so far...

Date: 3/24/12 (Saturday) from 8AM to 4PM.

Location: Wildlands Conservancy Classroom (on the Little Lehigh). They're really excited to be hosting this event! Their facility is perfect for this, and we'll be set for whatever Mother Nature throws our way. Surveyor06 won't have to tie with his gloves on this year. 😊

The sooner we establish our itinerary, the better. I have to send it to the director of the Wildlands Conservancy so she can advertise this event through her channels. This could be HUGE.....

It seems that paflyfish has established an extremely positive rapport with our local conservation agencies, and they're thrilled to roll out the red carpet for us.

This is gonna be fun!
