Shop Talk is a forum where sponsoring professionals can share promotions, programs, special offers, raffles and other announcements. The professionals can start a post in the forum and other members can respond in that thread.

Only professionals in the fly fishing industry that participate in sponsoring may have permission to initiate threads with announcements and promotions. They also have the ability to provide links back to their websites or social media.

Our fly fishing community is made up of not only anglers, but fly shops, guides, and other professionals. This forum is a location on the site that professionals and businesses can promote to members. Members should understand clearly that this is a paid area in the forums.

Paflyfish does not endorse nor validate claims made in this forum.
