

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Photo of a Spring Creek caddis larva?

Re: Photo of a Spring Creek caddis larva?

Author: : jerseygeorge

Date: : 2012/1/24 8:49:41

URL:

I met a pa guide and professional fly tyer stream side on SC a long time ago. He have me a simple green caddis. Size 14, gold bead head, green dubbed body, fine gold rib. He told me that was his number one producer. I tied a bunch up and eventually tied them in tan also. On SC I have actually done better with a tan caddis than the green/olive that I started with. The pics above are very good, you will find both of those bugs living there.