I am an avid warmwater fly guy i have lived just a few minutes from the allegheny and clarion rivers my whole life. As mentioned before on this post This time of year the best fishing is in the tribs. You would be suprised how far up a small stream a pike or musky will travel. I recently caught a 28 inch pike out of a stream that was 5 feet wide about 3 feet deep and 7 miles up from the mouth. It takes dedication and determination they are not a fish for the instant gratification fisherman. I've spent so many days getting skunked and frustrated but thats musky fishing.
