The nailless nail knot is all I tie anymore and it's easier to tie than a blood knot and blood knots are easy. I nail knot a 7 inch 25lb red amnesia piece of mono to the fly line and then tie a very small perfection loop at the end of the amnesia. I then improve clinch knot the leader to the perfection loop.

I do not like loop to loop connections, they are too bulky and can get caught in the guides but a perfection loop and clinch knot doesn't seem to get hung up.
