In my limited experience...

1. First thing you should do when you get to a creek is find a secluded spot to watch the stream and do just that. I usually watch for about 10 minutes to get a gauge of what the fish are doing or more importantly, what they are not doing.

2. Stealth

3. What fly are you using? Floating line, no strike indicator, 9 ft 4x tapered leader and 6 ft of 3x....

4. Watch some more, they tell you what they want, not the other way around.

5. Talking to the guys at my local shop has helped me a lot
