

Subject: : Hatch and Entomology Forum

Topic: : Black caddis

Re: Black caddis

Author: : flipnfly

Date: : 2012/2/6 19:27:42

URL:

I've always fished a peacock with a dark soft hackle wet fly when I see those bugs. Always did well even on put n take streams like Laurel Hill. Of course the alders I have seen there are smaller usually around a 14 maybe 16 they don't seem to hatch in swarms either. You'll see one here one there usually during a caddis hatch for me anyways.