Good call afish, a long time coming probably. Most of us on the forum have gotten sucked in at one point or another to the SBing debate, no matter which side of the fence we are on. It was just all too common, to the point where it was nearly infecting every stream report thread. Granted it usually took some initial provocation alledging of a spot burn to start the thread down the wrong path, but the rest of us (myself included) probably weren't helping matters by continuing to allow the discussion to stray from the OP.

I like reading the stream reports and looking at pictures...not to find new places to fish, just because I like reading and learning from them. I'm not sure any of my stream reports ever got turned into a SBing debate, but I know I'd be pissed if it did...after I took the time to gather my thoughts, write the report, and share a few pictures. That's why I traditionally stood up for the OP in these matters. Probably wasn't helping anything though. This thread is the more appropriate venue to air these matters.

Keep in mind guys...just the fact that we are all members of the same FFing board means we have a lot more in common than we do different. If we must discuss SBing, let's legitimately try to do it here, and try to keep it civil.
